

Dear Steve Wright,

The proposals by the aluminum industry for long-term BPA contracts must be accepted! For more than 60 years, BPA and the aluminum industries have worked together in this state. This relationship has brought infrastructure and low rate power for everyone. To consider doing anything less in the future is wrong.

Our economy has suffered enough. Throwing away good, family-wage jobs by cutting the industry off will destroy the economy of the rural communities throughout Washington.

Please take action to save the industries that remain in this state. These jobs are very important to us, our kids, neighbors and support of all the businesses in our communities. The future of many people rests in your hands. We do not need special deals but do need to be in the game.

Sincerely,
