Subject: comments on summary concerning project costs

Patty:

We at Seattle City Light have looked at the table that was sent to us for comment. It doesn't give us a lot of information about how well the money is being spent because we know nothing about the condition of the land and the type of restoration. We could make a judgment about average cost per acre, percent of administrative cost, and some others based on comparison to what we spend on our mitigation lands, but it would yield nothing very specific. It appears that the information could be useful if one knew more about the properties.

I hope this is helpful.
