Subject: Regarding document 2002-16, "Draft Mainstem Amendments"

Public Affairs
Northwest Power Planning Council

Dear Mark Walker,

Please reconsider the proposed actions concerning salmon in document 2002-16. Significant reductions in the water available will provide insufficient means for salmon needs. A strong water flow is essential to the health of the biodiversity that exists in and around rivers. It is important to note that our health and well-being also depends on the quality of rivers. Please reconsider our dependence upon natural resources and that without them our well-being is at risk. It is essential that we take care of the environments that sustain us.

Sincerely,
Stacie Hardison
