We would like to withdraw Project #33012, Flow Augmentation in the Upper Snake River Sub-basin to Benefit Anadromous, Resident Fish and Wildlife Species. We would need an attorney to answer your questions and we do not have the resources to hire one. When submitting the proposal, the intention of our group, the Upper SNAKE Basin Users, was to inform people that there are farmers in the Upper Snake Basin who would like to lease their water at a fair market price for the benefit of fish and wildlife. The farm economy and the communities associated with farming are severely depressed. The lease of Upper Snake water would not only benefit fish and wildlife but would also help the struggling rural economy of southeastern Idaho and the many farmers who are interested in this project. Our hope is that some day the agencies and elected leaders would find a way to accomplish the objectives listed in the proposal.

We would like to thank the ISRP for the time they spent to review our proposal.
